

Outline Contents

List of Tables	xxi
Table of Cases	xxiii
Table of Statutes	xxvii
Table of Statutory Instruments	xxxiii
Table of European Legislation	xxxv
Table of Conventions and Other Enactments	xxxix

PART I PRIVACY, ANONYMITY, AND DATA PROTECTION

1 Privacy, technology, and surveillance	3
2 The emergence of data protection	21
3 The scope of data protection	39
4 Supervisory agencies	61
5 The data protection principles	86
6 Individual rights and remedies	123
7 Sectoral aspects of data protection	152
8 Transborder data flows	182

PART II COMPUTER-RELATED CRIME

9 The phenomenon of computer-related crime	209
10 Legislating for computer crime	223
11 Computer forgery and fraud	241
12 The Internet and computer pornography	250
13 Detecting and prosecuting computer crime	262

PART III INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY ISSUES

14 Intellectual property law	281
15 Key elements of the patent system	287
16 Patents and software	306
17 Copyright protection	334

18	Copyright in the information economy	375
19	Protection of databases	390
20	Trade mark and domain name issues	409
21	Competition and intellectual property issues	430

PART IV E-COMMERCE

22	International and European initiatives in e-commerce	443
23	Cryptography, electronic signatures, and the Electronic Communications Act 2000	460

PART V LEGAL ISSUES OF THE INTERNET

24	Contractual liability for defective software	483
25	Non-contractual liability	522
26	Defamation and the Internet	545

PART VI REGULATION OF THE INTERNET

27	Internet regulation and the rise, fall, and rise of .com	567
----	--	-----

PART VII LIVING IN AN INTERNET WORLD

Epilogue	IT law—Past, present, and looking into the future	581
----------	---	-----

Index		589
-------	--	-----